DOWNFALL OF FAVORITES.

ALL SIX SUFFER DEFEAT.

Cousin Eva Takes Venus Stakes in Race Not True Run.

For the second time within a week six favorites went down to inglorious defeat at the Brighton Beach racetrack yesterday. In the cases of Druid and Early and Often some excuses can be offered. Druid was away poorly to a bad start and Early and Often was shut off and hopelessly knocked out of the running. The other four-Aviston, Malden, Major Daingerfield and Chrysolite, were beaten on their merits. Aviston would unquestionably have won if Knapp had held his place on the rail and not left an opening big enough to drive a coach and four through, but Lord of the Forest was best, and little Miller took full advantage of Knapp's carelessness. Another bid mid week crowd was in attendance, and with half a gale blowing off the ocean it was cool and comfortable.

The racing suffered in comparison with the previous days of the meeting. The card had little to recommend it beyond the Venus Stakes for two-year-old fillies, and this race was disappointing because it was not true run. The steeplechase lent some interest, and, while a cheap lot of jumpers took part, most of them negotiated the course safely. The field for the Venus Stakes was not particularly classy, even though it had a guaranteed value of $7,500, a purse of no mean value for two-year-old fillies. Most of those which started were maidens, and maidens with little to recommend them. Early and Often, James R. Keene's Voter filly, looked to have the stake at her mercy, and she was held at odds-on. Belle of Pequest was about the only one played to beat her, on the strength of her good race with Voorhees in the Daisy Stakes at Sheepshead Bay. The race was not for either of them, however, due largely to the uncertainties of the sport. Under ordinary cir-cumstances they would probably have fought out the finish.

To a fair start Cousin Eva from an outside To a fair start Cousin Eva from an outside position broke in front and bore over to the rail. In doing so it caused a jamb at the end of the first quarter from which Early and Often, which was trying to hold her position on the rail, was the chief sufferer. Jack Martin, who had the mount, had to take her up sharply to save her from falling, and when he got the filly straightened out again she was far back, badly pocketed and clearly beaten. In the mean time Burns had rushed Cousin Eva into a big lead of four or five lengths, an advantage which the others could not overcome, the mean time Burns had rushed Cousin Eva into a big lead of four or five lengths, an advantage which the others could not overcome, even though she was tiring fast in the last furlong. Belle of Pequest was second and closting strong, while Veribest earned the small end of the stake. Belle of Pequest, usually noted for her early speed, seemed to be all tangled up at the start and unable to settle into her stride. When O'Neil finally got her running she closed a big gap, but the distance was too short to overcome her early difficulties. Cousin Eva showed deeded improvement over her last race and was at the lucrative price of 12 to 1.

Nine horses made up the field in the steeple-chase, and Knobhampton was the only one to come to grief. He fell at a jump in the back stretch, and J. O'Brien got a masty fall, from which, however, he escaped without serious injury. Malden made most of the running, but Grandpa took command on the last turn of the field and managed to stagger home, a tired horse, a scant length before Malden. Game Cock kept his feet and trailed home ten lengths behind Malden and far in front of Dick Boberts. Frontenac won the handlcap at six furlongs, added by a clever ride on the part of J. Martin and also by the fact that the most likely contenders had little or no chance with the break. Druid, Bedouin, Alian-a-Dale and Gold Rose had little chance with the start, which was one of the world of the year. Bedouin in particular ran a race that was worthy of better results. Shot Gun, Handzarra and Ancestor were always in the van to the stretch turn, where Shot Gun began to tire under the weight, and Frontenac moved up. It was a hard drive to the wire, and Frontenac was lucky enough to squeeze through a narrow opening, and, under one of Martin's strongest finishes, win on the post by a head. Ancestor went wide at the stretch turn and came down the middle of the track. But for this she would have earned the decision. Bedouin was running over his field at the end, and had the distance been a little further could hardly have lost. Lady Amelia was never able to get to the front and retired after half a mile.

The other winners were Lord of the Forest, The Southerner and Ismalian.

CONNECTICUT GOLF.

Some Clever Play in Annual Championship Tournament.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]
New-Haven, Conn., July 12.—The seventh annual championship tournament of the Counceticut State Golf League was begun to-day over the links of the New-Haven Country Club. There was a big field of seventy-two competitors, but there was lacking the presence of Stephen H. Patterson, Brooklawn Country Club, the present title holder, and Charles H. Seely, the Metropolitan champion, who for three years in succession, prior to last year, had won the Connecticut championship. The weather was favorable for the sport, and some good goif was played. The gold medal of-fered for the lowest score in the qualifying round was won by R. P. Sprott, of the Brooklawn Country Club. Four sixteens qualified for cups, the first being the championship division.

The first round at match play for the four cup was played in the afternoon. The match, which carried the gallery, was the meeting between S. D. Barnes, Brooklawn, and Dr. Carl Martin, Fairfield, the first Connecticut champion. Barnes did the course in 78 to Martin's 80, and proved the vic-

WATSON AND ALLEN LOSE

Beaten in Lawn Tennis Doubles on the Ardsley Courts.

Robert Le Roy and Raymond D. Little, the Columbia-Princeton combination, scored a victory over C. F. Watson, jr., and Harry F. Allen on the courts of the Ardsley Club, at Ardsley-on-Hudson yesterday. It was the first defeat that Watson and Allen have met in the special round robin doubles tournament, held under the direction of the United States National Lawn Tennis Associa-tion. From their side of the net Le Roy and Little worked the ball down the affeys of the opposing court with such persistency and accuracy that they won the match in atraight sets by the score of 6-2, 19-8, 6-2. The play was close and exciting during the second set.

Both teams began the competition playing a driving game. Watson and Allen tried the same tactics that worked so successfully in winning on the preceding days. They tried to lobb and then steal up to the net so as to cross or drive sharply for the point. The Columbia-Princeton pair met this attack by only moving in a short distance from their base line and returning the ball by hard hit drives down the side lines and to the extreme corners of the court.

In the second set Watson and Allen forced the playing at the net. They played their returns so short that Le Roy and Little were compelled to close the gap and rely upon their volleying to win the points. The work of the teams was spirited and the exchanges prolonged so that the ball crossed the net often twenty times or more. Watson and Allen had a trifle the better of this sort of play, and they were only held off from winning the set by Little's clean, quick hitting in the rallies and Le Roy's prettily played passing shots when-ever he had the chance. The play was so evenly balanced that the games went to deuce four times, and then Le Roy and Little broke through a service game and won the set at 10-8. The third set was a repetition of the first, Le Roy and Little was a repetition of the first, Le Roy and Little showing the stronger game and winning at 6-2. The match this afternoon will engage Stephen C. Millett and J. F. Marvin against George L. Wrenn, jr., and Reginald F. Flincke. As the teams now stand, Wrenn and Flincke lead, with one victory and no defeats; Watson and Allen, two won and one lost; Le Roy and Little, one won and one lost, and Millett and Marvin and Hackett and Alexander, each with no wins and one defeat.

VANDERBILT CUP FOR MOTOR BOATS.

Commodore W. K. Vanderbilt, jr., has presented a cup to be raced for the latter part of September by motor boats driven by internal combustion origines. The race is to be run without time allowance, on the Sound; the distance, one hundred miles, the only restrictions being that the boats should be propelled by internal combustion engines. The exact date will be settled later. FAVORITES IN THE PROFESSIONAL GOLF TOURNAMENT WHICH BEGINS TO-DAY AT VAN CORTLANDT PARK.

Mathewson was in poor form yesterday, and was hit freely. Further than that, the fielding of the Giants was on the schoolboy order, and as a result Chicago won an easy victory at the Polo Grounds by a score of 8 to 1. Brown, who was in the box for Chicago, had the Giants at his mercy throughout, allowing only two hits. He would have scored a shut-out but for Maloney's muff of McGann's fly in the fourth inning, which allowed him to reach second base and on Mertes's single. The feature of the game was Tinker's one-handed stop of Mertes's hard drive in the second inning. Many of the professionals who will compete today in the open tournament at Van Cortlandt Park were on the links yesterday putting on the finishing touches prior to the great test of skill this morning. As a rule on the day preceding a big tournament the golfers save themselves as much as possible by only working up on their case may be.

THE SUPERBAS TAKE REVENGE.

Errors by Pittsburg and Malay's Home Run Responsible for the Victory.

The Superbas delighted their few remaining folowers by defeating Pittsburg at Washington Park yesterday, by a score of 8 to 6. The fielding of the visitors was wofully bad, and five errors were largely responsible for their downfall. Flaherty, who pitched for the Pirates, was knocked out of the box in the sixth inning, Leever taking his place Batch made two errors for Brooklyn, but otherwise Batch made two errors for Brooklyn, but otherwise the men played an errorless game.

The fielding of Hall, of the home team, was one of the features of the game. He made several difficult catches that brought the crowd to its feet. Beaumont was the star batter of the day, making four safe hits in his five visits to the bat. One of the hits was a three-bagger, and another for two bases. Malay, in the sixth inning, batted out a home run to the centre field flagpole, sending in two men before him. The score follows:

Boston, July 12.—The first of two games played here to-day was characterized by free hitting, and was won by Cincinnati by a score of 15 to 3. The second was a pitchers' battle, which Boston took by a score of 3 to 2. Cincinnati's score in the earlier contest was swelled by misplays by Teasey and Fraser. Willis opened the second game by filling the bases with gift runners, and then by making a balk, on which Huggins was allowed to score. Huggins's second run was forced in, Moran interfering with the batter when the bases were full. Steinfeldt and Wolverton fielded brilliantly in both games. The scores follow:

AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDING.

Detroit, July 12.-The Highlanders shut out Detroit to-day by a score of 7 to 0. Kitson started in to pitch for the home team, and was hit freely. He was taken out of the box at the end of the sixth inning, when the visitors had gained a safe lead, Justis, who succeeded him, changed the game into a farce by his wildness. In the three innings he pitched he gave six bases on balls, forcing home two men in the final inning.

Hogg pitched for the Highlanders, and kept the iso fielded his position perfectly, making three elever assists. With the exception of Elberfeld's wo errors, the visitors played a flawless fielding ame. These misplays, however, did no damage. O'Leary's one-handed jumping catch of Williams's liner in the fifth inning was a feature of the game. New-York scored one run in the second inning, two in the fourth, one in the sixth and three in the last. The score follows:

CHICAGO BREAKS EVEN.

Chicago, July 12 - Chicago broke even with Boston to-day, Boston shutting out Chicago in the first game by a score of 1 to 0, and Chicago defeating Boston in the second game by a score of 4 to 1. Tannehill, during the first game, allowed Chicago only six scattered hits. In the second game Chicago bunched hits and clinched the game in the first inning. The scores follow: FIRST GAME.

The plan of racing from port to port will be continued, the yachts sailing in the squadron to be classified by the regatta committee, and a prize to be awarded to each yacht winning the most points in her class after competition, with a second prize in any class in which four or more boats compete Racing for points is not an essential fature of the cruise, and captains not wishing to compete need have no hesitation in refraining from crossing the start and finish lines. Protests and requests for information as to racing should be made to the regatta committee. Signal charts and answering pennants can be obtained on board the flagship the Midge

MAY ARREST TOURISTS.

Motorists Exceed Speed Limit in Race for Glidden Cup.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBENE.]
Boston, July 12.—A constable, of Lelecster, Mass.
Is likely to cause trouble for some of the Ollidea Cup motorists. He lay in wait for them in his town to-day as they came speeding along from Hartford, and, timing them, says he caught twentytwo of the contestants exceeding the speed limit. He noted the numbers of the machines and will take out warrants for the drivers. H. C. White, of Cleveland, in his 15-horse-power steamer, led the tourists into Boston, to-day, arriving at 19:55 a. m. Up to a late hour in the after-noon, only fourteen of them had registered at the Hotel Lenox, and the others came straggling in through the evening. Late arrivals complained of many punctures all the way from Hartford. The second car in was a huge Packard truck, driven by W. J. Birmingham and labelled "Official Baygage Wagon." E. A. Gilmore, of Boston, in a Rar bler car, was third in reporting at 1115. S. Stevens, in a Darracq, was fourth and Ray Owen, in his Reo, was the fifth and last to arrive in the forenoon.

in his Reo, was the fifth and last to arrive in the forencon.

Owen was accompanied by Mrs. Owen and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Gerrie, all of New-York. They lost their way passing through Waltham, and did not locate themselves till they had lost nearly an hour. There were a number of protests filed over the change in the route to pass through Waltham instead of down through welfesley and the Newtons, over magnificent housewards and State roads.

The run from Hartford was made without serious mishap other than the breaking of a part of the shafting of the car of Colonel E. H. Woods of Boston, which occurred outside of Worcester. The car was towed into Worcester, where repairs were made, and Colonel Woods arrived here at info o'clock to-night, the last to reach Boston.

The touring automobilists were entertained to-night by members of the Bay Staty Automobile Association.

Rockaway Four Beat Westchester in a Dashing Game.

Cedarhurst, Long Island, July 12 (Special).—Rene La Montagne, jr., John E. Cawdin, Foxhall P. Keene and Daniel Chauncey, jr., of the Rockaway Hunt Club played a dashing game of polo to-day on the field at Cedarhurst, when they lowered the colors of a quartet from the Westchester Coun-try Club by a score of 8 to 3.

The Rockaways were always surer in their direc-The Rockaways were always surer in their direc-tion, and time after time, when the Westchester four had managed to work the ball well down to within a few feet of their posis, they lost to the clever combination work and fast plays of Keens and Cowdin.

Four goals were scored in the first period by Rockaway, none in the second and four in the last, Westchester made three goals in the third period. The match was played without handicap. The line-up was:

The winners will receive the Great Neck Challenge Cup, which was first competed for in 1998, when it was won by the Westchester Country Club.

Last year it was won by the Bryn Mawr first team

MIMOSA III'S CUP.

Wins Manhasset Bay Challenge Trophy in Slashing Breeze.

Trenor L. Parks's sloop yacht Mimosa III won the third and final race yesterday of the series for the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club's challenge cup. She defended the cup, which she won last yes well, that her challengers, J. W. Alker's Alert and Vicor I. Cumnock's Nike, were practically out of it. The former was beaten yesterday by 10 minutes 26 seconds, the latter being beaten 2 minutes 57 seconds by the Alert.

All three races were sailed in steady breezes of sufficient strength to test the speed of each boat. There was a fresh breeze from the southwest yesterday at the start, and it stiffened consid while the yachts were sailing the latter half of the course, so they had some rough water to finish in. The course was four miles to windward and return, sailed twice over, making sixteen miles in all.

The start was made at 1:40 p. m. from the Scotch Cap buoy, Miomosa III getting away in the lead 5 seconds after the gun, the Nike 16 seconds after and the Alert 30 seconds later. All three were on the starboard tack, and Mimosa III had the windward berth. She fetched clear across the Sound on this tack, but she had to make a short hitch on the other tack to reach the outer mark, a buoy off Mott's Point. Although the Alert made a good play to go through her lee at one time Mimosa III led her around the mark by 5 minutes. On the run back to the home mark with spinnakers set, the Alert gained 1:24, but the boat did some great work on the next windward leg, gaining 6:27 on the Alert to the outer mark. On the home run the Alert cut off 9 seconds of this lead. The summary follows:

MANHASSET BAY YACHT CLUB CHALLENGE CUP FINAL RACE-START, 1:40-COURSE, 16 MILES

Mimosa III. It.M.S. 2:26:08 5:302:48 3:322:40 4:25:32 2:45:32 THE ATLANTIC YACHT CLUB CRUISE.

By reason of the foggy weather and the lack of interest in its daily runs the cruise of the Atlantic Yacht Club had to be abandoned at Shelter Island. Only one yacht made the run to Block Island, and that was the schooner Lasca, owned by Robert P. Doremus. The officers of the club deny that the resignation of Vice Commodore Underwood had anything to do with the shortening of the cruise.

The ocean race from Newport to Sea Gate was to have been started yesterday, but there were not enough entries to warrant the contest.
